A word from our Minister... failure, success and second chances.

Sometimes as a preacher, you have a clear idea of what you hope to achieve with a sermon, of whom you hope you will reach. Sometimes the law of unintended consequences takes over, and someone takes pleasure in what you have said, while another takes offence. You realise quickly, as a preacher where the reactions of others are concerned to expect the unexpected! In a way that is at it should be, for that allows room for the Holy Spirit to move in customary mysterious ways.

Recently, I clearly struck a chord with some folk when I was referring to the highs and lows, the ups and downs of life, and someone kindly sent me this quote: "If kids never see their parents mess up -- if parents never fail -- how will children learn to deal with failure in their own lives, and how could anyone ever live without messing up?"

Sometimes I come across people of faith who struggle with the idea that Christians can make mistakes. Their faith has no room for mistakes. They demand that you get it right first time. There is no need for a second chance. If you make a mistake, you live with it and like the rich young man, are doomed to be sad, at least for the rest of your life. That becomes your permanent mark, like the one that Cain wore.

You can see that mark on all kinds of people: politicians, ministers, married people who have had affairs, people who have made serious mistakes with their children and many others who have made serious mistakes. But how can we help them?

We need a theology of brokenness. And in this Easter season surely we can claim that. We need a theology that teaches us that even though we cannot unscramble an egg, God's grace lets us live happily and with renewed innocence far beyond any egg we may have scrambled.

We need a theology that teaches us that God does not just give us one chance, but that every time we close a door He opens another one for us. Brokenness need not frighten us; indeed it may be the means of us being remade by God.

I think it is in the closing scene of the film "The Best Exotic Marigold Hotel" the line "The only real failure is the failure to try; and the measure of our success is how we cope with disappointment" is delivered. So let's keep trying this Easter season to be the people God wants us to be, mistakes and all.

Rev. lan Taylor

LOOKING BACK

Funerals

God of grace and peace, in your Son Jesus Christ, you have given us new birth into a living hope. Strengthen us now to live in the power of the resurrection and keep us united with our loved one from whom in death we are not divided. For you live and reign for ever and ever.

Amen.

Tribute to Gordon Lyle

the Lounge.

"Gordon Lyle was born on the 9th April 1937 and died on the 26th February 2015. He was born in Bright Street, Garngad, and had an older brother Jim, younger sister Cath, and a younger brother Jack. The family moved from Garngad to Milton and lived at 146 Westray Street. Gordon was a bright boy and was sent to Whitehill Senior Secondary School. As was the custom in those days, he left school at 15 and began work at R D Waddell as a costing clerk where he met a young post clerk by the name of Sadie. Soon after this he was made redundant and went to work at Meechans Iron Works in Scotstoun, where he met his lifelong friend John Beresford. Initially Gordon was on the shop floor, resplendent in a boiler suit, however he was shortly removed from the shop floor and found himself in the drawing office. He attended Stow College and was awarded an HNC for his efforts, specialising in marine heating and ventilation. Following this he became self-employed and worked for a number of years with Bob Fulton, before working with Abb Flakt Marine Oil & Gas at 78 Queen Street. A further period of redundancy for two years followed before he began working as a draughtsman with Kvaerner Govan, specialising in CAD work until once again he was made redundant at the age of sixty. This allowed Gordon to enjoy a little more time with Sadie and the family at a time when Gordon's health was not ideal.

Having met Sadie on that fortuitous first employment opportunity, Gordon and Sadie were married on the 13th February 1960 in Woodlands Church. For eighteen months or so, the young couple lived with Gordon's family in Westray Street, before moving to 226 Castlemilk Road in Kings Park where they lived for 7 years, before moving to their final home at 17 Morar Crescent in 1968. Sadie and Gordon were blessed with 3 children: Linda, Andrew and Karen and grandchildren Jacqui, Scott (both of whom are currently in Australia), Andrew, Holly and Steven.

As a husband Sadie knew Gordon as a quiet, caring, thoughtful and generous man. Generous in the sense that he loved to sit in the garden and watch Sadie do the garden! Gordon had the capacity to see both sides of an argument, even if he knew he was on the right, winning side. He had a sarcastic sense of humour (but it was never a cruel humour, for he had a loving heart.) He could deliver humorous one-liners with great aplomb. Together he and Sadie travelled to the US, Canada, Italy, Austria and enjoyed five fabulous cruises. He loved to read crime thrillers, listen to country and western music and take photographs and develop them at home with the printer his family had given him. He enjoyed playing snooker with Mervyn Porter, his good friend, every second Monday and was a member of Cadder Men's Club. He also enjoyed Scotland's other national drink, and I don't mean Irn-Bru. A wee dram was his favourite tipple especially if it was malt. In trying to sum up Gordon's life, to arrive at the heart of the matter, and the heart of the man, it would be fair to say that Gordon believed he had led a blessed life (he had known difficulties in his life - he had had a heart attack at 48, suffered from colon cancer and gallstones, and five and a half years ago had a defibrillator fitted just before his Golden Wedding Anniversary celebrations), with no regrets, with a faith that was real, a family in whom he was rightly proud, and with friends who knew him as a faithful, loyal, and reliable individual as Mervyn and John could testify. Of course I can picture him clearly as one of our Elders, ordained here on the 23rd February 1992 serving actively until the 21st May 2013 when illhealth forced him to step down from the Kirk Session. Standing at the door of the Church as part of the duty team, he was always impeccably dressed complete with his trademark moustache and broad warm smile, greeting you with a clear and confident 'Good morning'. His smile was a gift to you which you had no alternative but to return to him and to share with those around you. We give thanks to God for his life and the way in which his life enlarged and enriched ours." Rev Ian Taylor

Treasurer's Report

By the time this article goes to press the first quarter of 2015 will be nearly over! Income and Expenditure for the period January–March 2015 is tracking the budgeted figures for the year and we have started to receive settlement of our outstanding Income Tax Claims from HMRC. The next tax recoveries that are due to be credited to us are the General Fund claim for Quarter 3 (2014) and the General Fund claim for Quarter 4 (2014) totalling £8,569.

The main items of expenditure in March were our Central payment to the Church of Scotland of £7,963, partial payment of £1,456 in respect of our Glasgow Presbytery dues for 2015 and a loan repayment of £6,000 (plus interest of £856) to the Church of Scotland General Trustees in respect of the Building work loan taken out in 2011.

Jim Kerr, Treasurer

Recycle for Profit

This is the first report in 2015 in relation to this ongoing church fund raising initiative. And a most pleasing report we have to make – for over £225 has been raised since just before Christmas and passed on to assist with church funds! Which equates to £158 of CDs and DVDs, £20 of mobile phones and £47 of ink cartridges. At the time of writing, there are three further batches of CDs and DVDs being processed worth £87.00 to the church; payment for which should be through by the first week in April.

So – to all the church folk who have left items in the receptacles in the Hall of Fellowship – many sincere and appreciated thanks for your generosity and for thinking of your church in this way.

As well dropping off items in to the boxes, we also provide a pick-up-from-home service. We have received three such requests over the past period and we are delighted to come along and pick-up items from your home. Just give one or either of us a call on 772 1323 and we will arrange a mutually agreeable time to call.

We conclude this positive report by saying, as always, if you have one CD, DVD or ink cartridge to offer or maybe several CDs, DVDs and ink cartridges to offer – then all are of cumulative value to your church – just bring them along and drop them in the boxes! (Or give us a call to collect).

Many thanks again for the splendid support for this initiative

James and Kenneth Robertson

The Guild

The Hostess Tea was very well supported by the members and friends of the Guild with more than 90 people attending.

Those present enjoyed the visit of the ladies from Kirkintilloch Ladies Choir who entertained us with an interesting and varied programme of songs. The choir ended their programme with 'Thank You for the Music' and we sincerely thank all the ladies, the soloist Jackie Conway and the duet of Ruth Sloan and Sheila Downie for their music and for giving up their time to come and entertain us. Thanks also to their accompanist Maryam Shernan who also played a lovely solo on the fiddle and to their Musical Director 'our local lad' Bryan Marshall.

With the addition of tea, sandwiches and cakes courtesy of the committee we hope that all who came along enjoyed the evening.

The final meeting of the session is the A.G.M. on 13th April. We hope to see all of the Guild members there. Tickets for the Guild Outing on 16th May to St. Andrews will be available then.

Lenten Reflections - "Count your Blessings"

Jared Diamond describes how the first western people to interact with the Papua New Guineans saw what they thought was very inefficient agriculture taking place. The locals planted their crops in tiny, irregular plots amongst trees in poorly irrigated soils. So, the newcomers made the plots larger and more regular, cleared some of the trees and introduced an irrigation system. On the first occasion that the monsoon rains came, entire areas were washed away. Diamond points out that in one year these westerner, technical farmers had destroyed one of the oldest agricultural systems in the world. It was an example of the imposition of technical "know how", without really listening.

Closer to home, let me tell you about Lisa. She was a remarkable young woman whom I got to know who had been homeless off and on since she was 14 and suffered from a range of disabilities that she was quite happy to list. Dyspraxia, dyslexia were two of them, but she had quite a few others besides that she would regularly reel off.

She very much reminded me of the man Jesus met in the land of the Gerasenes (Luke 8: 26 - 39). When Jesus asks this man his name, he replies with the description of his ailment. It wouldn't be the first time that people in poverty or distress have been defined by their problem rather than their personhood.

So often we offer solutions rather than solidarity and we see problems rather than people. Rev Richard Frazer

FUND RAISING GROUP

Quiz and Fish Supper Night

The Fund Raising Group are pleased to announce that a total of £644 including Gift Aid was raised at the Quiz and Fish Supper Event on Friday 27th February. The Group Members would like to thank everyone who attended, and assisted, for their support. A special thanks is given to our Quizmaster Stephen Millar for all his hard work in compiling the Quiz, and to John Armour for ably assisting on the computer. Thanks also to Gianni's for supplying the appetising fish suppers. 1st and 2nd Prizes were awarded to the 2 tables with the highest scores and a Consolation Prize was given to the table with the lowest score – you know who you are! Better luck next time. A good night was had by all.

FLOWER, FRUIT AND VEGETABLE QUIZ

As part of our fund-raising efforts, Quiz Sheets were made available to members of the Congregation. This has raised £180. 1st Prize was won by Fiona Smillie, 2nd Prize by Rita Kerr and 3rd Prize by Johnnie Moore. Well done to the winners. Many thanks to all those who participated and to the entrants who, mostly, were only a couple of answers away from having a perfect scoresheet. The following (on page 11) are the correct answers.

Springfield Cambridge Festival Chorus & Orchestra A Date for your Diary

"I am pleased to confirm that our 2015 Christmas Concert will take place on Tuesday 22 December in The Glasgow Royal Concert Hall."

Sheila Dunbar, Secretary

GIRLS' BRIGADE 65th COMPANY

Brigaders - two weeks ago 12 girls and 4 officers met outside Burger King, had something to eat, then started their sponsored walk. From Burger King they walked to Cadder Church, the water works, then on to the Library and back to our own Church. Money raised will be sent to Erskine Hospital. (As usual it was pouring.) On their return to the hall they enjoyed a cup of hot chocolate etc.

The following Tuesday they had a Craft Evening. Everyone was given a white cup, plastic container filled with hot water; they then put different coloured nail varnish and mixed it all together. Then they put their cups into the container for a few seconds, and hay presto they had beautiful coloured cups to present to their Mums on Mothers' Day

On Tuesday 10th. Explorers, Juniors and Brigaders were all busy with their Mothers' Day cards and Diplomas. We would like to thank our two visiting Elders for all the help given to the three sections and hope they got all the paint off their hands!

It is back to Display Work from now on, what with holidays coming up it will be quite a rush.

The Company would like to congratulate Michelle and Chris on the arrival of Lewis, their baby son, on Tuesday 10th March. We are all looking for to seeing him!

Margaret Cuthbert, Captain

Thank You

On behalf of myself, Linda, Andrew and Karen and all the family I would like to say how grateful we were for all the lovely cards you sent us.

Special thanks to Rev Ian Taylor for visits to Glasgow Royal top see Gordon, also for the wonderful services he conducted, everyone remarked about them. Thanks goes to Donald Armour for the lovely music we all appreciated it very much.

The donation for British Heart Foundation raised £200.00

Thanks again

Fresh Start (church steering group)

On Wednesday 11th March Rhondda Geekie from East Dunbartonshire Council officially opened the unit used for the Fresh Start Project. Two referrals were also made up that day and we were grateful for the donations that we had received from our congregation.

The items donated have already been put to good use. We were also given feedback forms from the recent referrals. I would like to share some of the comments.

It was amazing to be given this. The stuff was brilliant, even the cleaning items as they are so dear to buy.

It was a great help thank you. What a great help at such a stressful time.

Thank you again for your generous donations. Brenda Diamond

268 Boys' Brigade Company Section Annual Reunion Dinner

Friday 13th March saw an excellent evening for the annual 268th Glasgow Boys' Brigade Ex-Members Reunion Dinner. A total of 33 people attended, with people who have served the Company in a variety of roles, from boys in the company, to helpers, warrant officers, Officers in Charge of Sections, Captain and friends of the company. Cadder Freestone saw us well with an excellent three course meal, which set us up nicely for the evening. John Armour led the Toast to Absent Friends, remembering those who have sadly passed away in the past 12 months, as well as those who had other engagements and were not able to attend. Our Captain, George McMillan gave a report on the company today, which was very insightful for all in attendance. Mr McMillan presented two trophies at this point, to the Company's "Eggheads" of Donald and John Armour, who of course had represented the BB on the BBC Quiz show! Our evening continued with Rev Martin Forrest telling us of his journey to ministry. From his role in bringing down Idi Amin, to his conversation with Archbishop Desmond Tutu (where they spoke and Martin covered much ground!) to the tale of a riot at a funeral Martin officiated at! It was an excellent night, which was rounded off with Bill Lowry thanking all who made the evening such a great success. The night was topped off with the fact a total of £366.30 was raised for Company Section funds! My personal thanks for all who attended and made the night such a great success.

268 BB Company Section

Much has happened in the Company Section since our last article. Sadly since then, we have had to cancel our camp due to a lack of numbers. An example of how much choice young folk have today.

However, our boys are still active on a Monday night, with the younger boys building bridges out of lollipop sticks. I remember a tale from when I was at General Assembly a few years ago as a Youth Rep, when one Commissioner complained about CH4 being so heavy that it broke the pews in the church! Thankfully our boys have much better building skills, as every bridge was able to stand the weight of 21 hymn books! No mean feat indeed! Sadly, the bridges weren't quite strong enough to bear the weight of the boys, as each bridge broke under that weight!

Our older boys are equally as busy. Andrew Irvine and Rory MacDonald both attended their "Building Your Skills" course. This means that both will be presented with their President's Badges at our End of Session Service in church on the 17th May. So well done to both boys for the work they have put in to achieve this award. The other boys have been working towards their Queen's Badge, with Nathan Cockburn, Adam Moore and Matthew Russell working in the Junior Section and Jacob Currie, Ross Gill and David Scott working in the Anchor Boys. All six boys have excelled in each Section, and have been an absolute credit to themselves as well the company section. They should be well on course for attaining their Queen's Badges at the end of next session.

We are well on the way to planning our Summer Programme which will begin after Easter. So watch this space for more details.

On this month's Front Cover

In this, our 150th Anniversary Year, there was only but one item from around our church that could feature on the front cover of the Easter issue. Namely that of the sanctuary wall hanging; joyously depicting the Resurrection – with the empty cross shown behind.

"I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never die. Do you believe this?" (John 11:25-26)

On last month's Front Cover So what was the intended purpose of the room with the door with the red leaded cross? Here I would extend my sincere thanks to Bill Findlay and Sheila Gibson for collectively applying their thought processes to the question. And the answer? It was intended as an area of quiet and prayerful reflection. It was furnished simply with two chairs and a small table holding a bible. An area of contemplative retreat, one might say.

In this our 150th Anniversary Year, it is interesting to reflect on changes and developments but to also witness that purpose remains constant. For the wee grey church on Springfield Road has become a much used and valued church hall and the rooms that served the former church are now used for practical administrative purposes. We now worship in our extended sanctuary off The Leys. Adjacent to the sanctuary is the Springfield Chapel - an area that can be used by anyone for quiet and reflective thinking and prayer. This is an area that has been enhanced in the last phase with the addition of new, more comfortable chairs. No red cross on the door here – but rather a splendid metal fretwork of the Crown of Thorns; this too was refurbished recently, making the doors easier to open and gain access. Further changes in recent years have seen the main church doors being opened each week day morning so that anyone can enter God's House and use the Chapel for a time of quiet and reflective thinking. The chapel also now contains the church's In Memorium Book - which is freely available for all to add entry to if they wish. The chapel is also used mid-week for a Service, for Bible Study and for Prayer for All (Open to all / praying for all). With regard to prayer. recent times have also seen the addition of a permanent Prayer Box, on its own shelf, in the Hall of Fellowship. Linked to which is the addition of the Prayer Request cards positioned at the end of each pew.

It is quietly pleasing to note in all this that the church has endeavoured to move forward – to retain the positives from the past and to reach forward to the future.
