A word from our Minister...

Long car journeys with young children can sometimes be problematic. To pass the time parents and children have sometimes been known to play the game, "I spy." A teacher once asked her class of 5 year olds, "What is the biggest thing in the world?" "My dad," said one little girl. "An elephant" answered a young boy who'd just been to Edinburgh Zoo. "A mountain," replied another. Then one child said, "My eye is the biggest thing in the world." The class went quiet as they tried to understand the last answer. The teacher asked, "What do you mean?" with an equal degree of perplexity.

"Well," began the miniature philosopher, "My eye can see her dad, and it can see an elephant. It can also see a mountain and many other things too. Since all this can fit into my eye, my eye must be the biggest thing in the world!"

Wisdom is not learning, but seeing clearly what can never be taught. I would broaden the little girl's answer a little. It is not your eye but your mind that is the biggest thing in the world.

Your mind can see all that your eye can see, and it can see more that is supplied through your imagination. It can also know sounds, which your eyes can never see, and know touch, both real and made from dreams. Your mind can know what lies outside of your five senses. Because everything that can be known can fit into your mind, your mind must be the biggest thing in the world. What are you turning your mind's eye to see and learn in this New Year?

St. Paul in 1 Corinthians 13:12 puts before us a promise of what we shall see in the future. Why not look it up and see for yourself.

Presbytery Plan/Parish Grouping News

Since the last magazine our representatives collated responses, from the "Listening Exercise" and presented our findings to the Congregational Facilitator from Presbytery at a meeting before Christmas. A follow-up meeting scheduled for January 15th, 2014 was postponed by the Congregational Facilitator, and further updates will follow once the meeting has been rearranged and held. The next phase for our congregation involves the preparation of a vision for the new Parish Grouping which will then be considered along with suggestions from the other three congregations, in the hope that a common vision can be identified.

Treasurer's Report

Firstly this month, a belated Happy New Year to you all!

Thanks to everyone who has contributed so generously to the appeal at the end of 2013 regarding the urgent electrical work to be carried out in the halls. As at 19/1/2014 the total is a fantastic £10,816 with £8,210 of that being Gift-Aided which is worth another £2,052.

Preparation of the Year End Accounts is now well underway and by the time you have read this article I will have met with our new Church Auditor, Lynsey Alexander who has very kindly agreed to audit our accounts for 2013. Preliminary figures for the General Fund for the last financial year show a surplus of circa £12,000. Ordinary General Income has increased by about 2% year on year with Gift Aid contributions rising again. The launch of the “Gift Aid Small Donations Scheme” has also had a positive effect on our tax recoveries which benefits us to tune of £1,250 on an annual basis. Costs have been kept well under control with the main expenditure being Mission and Ministries contributions/Presbytery Dues which in total account for 55% of the total general fund expenditure in 2013. In our Budget for this year we anticipate this percentage to rise to 57%. Mission and Ministries Allocation will be £75,543 this year as against £69,952 in 2013 (increase of 8%); likewise Presbytery Dues will increase from £3,754 in 2013 to £4,105 this year (increase of 9%).

Thanks as ever to all the regular contributors for your weekly offerings!

Sunday School

This year some of the gifts from the gift service were given to East Dunbartonshire to the woman's aid group. They were very grateful for the gifts and were planning parties leading up to Christmas and assured me they would be put to good use. I hope the congregation enjoyed the Nativity service in which all sections took part. I would like to thank the staff and the children for all their hard work. Thank you to Emma Craig and Catherine Taylor for their help. The Christmas parties went well and we all had a lot of fun. Thanks to Carol Robertson and Sandra Williams for coming along to help serve the food. The Bible Wayfinders had their Christmas outing on Sunday 29th December and I am sure a good time was had by all. By the time you read this we will have had our first fund raiser of the year, serving rolls with sausage or bacon.

Brenda Diamond

Lodging House Mission

I would like to thank all the members who purchased Christmas Cards and donated soft goods for the Lodging House Mission during December last year; it was very much appreciated.

The final total raised from the Christmas Cards was £487.50, and an excellent amount of goods were placed in the box and were very well received by the Lodging House Mission organisers.

A large number of Lunch Vouchers were also purchased and it would appear these were distributed among those less fortunate than ourselves. Vouchers will be available throughout the year at a cost of £1.25 each and can be obtained by contacting myself on a Sunday morning. Many thanks for all your help

Christine McIntosh

Boys' Brigade – Company Section

A Happy New Year from all in the Company Section! It maybe a new year, but it is as busy as ever! Looking back, the weeks before Christmas were pretty busy as boys baked, decorated and distributed Christmas cakes around the congregation. They were obviously keen to deliver things to the congregation as they delivered over 2000 cards around Bishopbriggs, raising £411. A special thanks to all who posted their cards with us, the boys for delivering and John Armour who co-ordinated the whole fund raiser!

In National Competitions we were unfortunately defeated in the chess competition, but we were far from disgraced!

Looking forward, the session will just fly by. The target boys are undertaking a project on the police, which will culminate with a trip to the Police Museum in Bell Street, Glasgow. The older boys are looking at Gamesmanship v Sportsmanship as well as working towards their President's Badge. In fact, we hope to have cause for great celebration at the end of the session as we hope to award seven President's Badges, as well as a Queen's Badge to Euan Russell who goes on his completion course in March. Throw in camp in May, this year going to Pitlochry, and I am sure you will agree it is a busy time ahead for the Company Section!

Douglas Robertson

Boys' Brigade – Anchor Boys

The first session of Anchor Boys finished on Friday the 6th Dec with our Christmas party. As usual our party was filled full of traditional party games, juice & crisps. Santa managed to visit as well giving all the boys goodie bags filled full of lots of toys & sweets.

We took 8 P3 boys over to Ibrox Parish Church on Saturday the 7th Dec to see the Panto Cinderella. The Panto was run by Glasgow Battalion for all the Junior Section and Anchor Boy's in Glasgow.

Our section restarted after the festive break on Friday 10th January with 48 boys on the role and around 40 boys regularly attending throughout our first session prior to the festive break.

This session the boys will be finishing off their badge work as well as starting to rehearse for our parent's night in May.

We will have 2 fund raisers this session with our family quiz night on Friday the 7th Feand our Coffee Morning on Saturday the 8th March. Both these fund raisers will be in aid of our funds and to help us with our costs for the end of the year.

2013 was the 75th anniversary of the founding of the Iona Community. The problem with Iona is that it is seldom visited and its facilities scarcely used during the winter months. However, consideration is being given by the University of the Highlands and Islands to establish a campus on the island. If this comes about, distance learning facilities will be established on Iona and Islands; facilities used all year round

The project is at planning and negotiating stages at present. If the proposals take off, readers can say that first 'national newspaper' to carry the story was The Springfield Cambridge Record.

Poppy Scotland Appeal 2013 and Remembrance Sunday

We have received correspondence from Poppy Scotland to advise that the amount collected by donations made at Springfield Cambridge Church over the period 27th October to 10th November was £434.95. I wish to record my thanks to all who donated and also to the Girls and Boys of our GB and BB Companies who turned out to stand in the Hall of Fellowship with their cans and the poppies.

This was a very good response and we can take satisfaction in contributing well to a particularly worthy cause.

I also wish to record my thanks to the Girls and Boys of our uniformed youth organisations for their turnout and decorum on Remembrance Sunday. Several members of the congregation and the Minister have commented upon this and have particularly asked that leaders ensure that the young people be made aware of the good impression which they presented.

Recycle for Profit  thank you – thank you – thank you! ***

When we started this project a couple of years back, the notion was that we would manage a 'surge' in year one and that matters would then settle back and we would then move along at a lower but, hopefully, regular rate. Well, Jim Kerr, our Church Treasurer has confirmed that £312 was raised through this initiative in 2012 – and the amount gained in 2013 actually increased to £372! Nigh on £700 in but two years - wonderful news indeed! And hence the sincere triple "thank you" in the heading; to all who contributed – your church has benefitted. And as ever – contributions great and small all help. Before Christmas we actually processed two lots of spent ink cartridges – realising a sum of £48; sold £12 worth of CDs and DVDs; made pleasant gain from recycling a couple of mobile 'phones and then hit the jackpot with a sale of Blu Ray discs netting £42.00 - all for church funds. And in to the New Year there are two orders going through for CDs and DVDs worth £27. To all our church family members who had a wee post-Christmas clear out – your church Fabric Fund has benefitted! So – if you have but one spent ink cartridge – or have one DVD watched and no longer required – please place them in the receptacle in the Hall of Fellowship. They all benefit your church!

GIRLS' BRIGADE 65th COMPANY

CELEBRATION 1953 – 2014

This will be a special year for the 65th Company, it is our 60th Anniversary. We have already had two celebrations, our Talent Show in November, when every girl in the company played a part. Instead of having three separate Christmas Parties the whole company met as one – getting together and enjoying every moment of the evening.

Our next event is the most important get together of all and that is our CELEBRATION SERVICE in our own CHURCH on the 16th February. The Company will be on parade along with Guests, Past Officers' and Parents'. We hope you will come along and join in this Celebration when once again all the Girls' and Officers' will be taking part.

COFFEE MORNING AND BOOK SALE

23 NOVEMBER 2013

We are glad to be able to report that the Coffee Morning and Book Sale in November raised the grand total of £1,180 raising an additional amount of £97.25 in Gift Aid. The support given to this venture, the first event last year to raise funds for our Church, was amazing. The amount of home baking and goods for sale for the Coffee Morning, and Books, etc. for the Book Sale donated by members of the congregation and others allowed us to reach this great sum of money. Our thanks also go to Rachel Findlay and Rachel Russell for their artistic talents in Face Painting which also added to the total.

The winner of the 'Guess the Weight of the Christmas Cake' was Joyce MacMillan, and the winners of the 'Guess the Number of Sweets in the Jars' were Sheila Ross and M Morrison.

The Cameron Hall was full of people enjoying fellowship, and then making their way to the Book Sale to stock up on reading material. Thanks also go to the members of the Church Fund Raising Group, Jim Tonner, Carol Nelson and all of the other volunteers who freely gave of their time and talents to make the morning so successful.

..... and now to the next venture. We need your support again for

by

THE BRIGHTONS CHURCH PRAISE GROUP

on

FRIDAY 21 FEBRUARY at 7.30 PM

This Group of approximately 35 mixed voices is coming to entertain us from Brightons Church, near Falkirk. They just love going out to different churches to sing and were last at Springfield Cambridge Church about 6 years ago when they provided a great evening's entertainment. Their music is varied from show songs, spirituals to sacred. Tickets, priced £5 (children £2), are now on sale on Sundays in the Hall of Fellowship; from members of the Church Fund Raising Group, or from The Church Office (☎ 0141 772 1596 or ✉ springfieldcamb@btconnect.com). The ticket cost can also be gift-aided by completing the reverse of the ticket. Refreshments will be provided at the end of the Concert. If everyone bought a ticket, and also brought along a friend the amount raised would again be very substantial. The money raised will go to help pay for the necessary repairs and upgrading of our Church premises.

Please come along and enjoy an evening of participation in, and enjoyment of, music.

Our speaker for 25th November called off due to illness and we were lucky that Margaret Roud could come and give us an insight of what life is like for women living in Saudi Arabia. It was a very interesting and informative talk.

On the 9th of December we held our Christmas Party. This year we reverted to an old fashioned party (as requested by some of our members). We all enjoyed a lovely meal provided again by Cadder Freestone Social Club. The entertainment for the evening included a Christmas Quiz, Christmas Bingo, Pass the Parcel and a version of “The Reply to the Twelve Days of Christmas” narrated by members of the Committee. We ended the evening with Christmas Carols. A jolly evening was enjoyed by all who attended.

We started off the second half of this session with our speaker Brian Adair who brought some stories from the Court. He was a Solicitor but is now a Judge in the Glasgow Courts. He told us some very interesting facts about how cases come to court and how he has to deal with them. There was lots of laughter from the guild members and it was a good start to 2014.

Our next meeting on 20th January will be the presentation of Wedding Dresses through the ages – models provided by friends and family of Guild members.

Book Review: Run away, Red Beret & Reverend by John Alexander.

This book is the biography of Mike McDade, a Baptist minister in England and the journey he took to his retirement in 2012. He was born after World War Two in Stanford-le-Hope, a rural village in Essex. His ambition as a child was to be rich, but he wasn't quite sure what that meant. Looking back, quite possibly to have his own bag of crisps and bottle of juice and not share them with his three siblings! His parents split when he was 11, and he left school soon after being humiliated by a teacher. At 14 he ran away from home and went to London where he lived rough. He tried to blag his way into the army as an officer, but his lack of education somewhat discounted him from this. He did, however, join the Parachute Regiment. After which he moved back to London, got married and found himself working in the fruit market in London, and this opened him up to some of the lucrative "dodgy deals" of goods that had been "acquired" or "fallen" off the back of a lorry". He got his own Greengrocer shop and freely admits he was quite happily ripping his customers off to make a quick buck for himself and his family. Through his shop he became friends with the then Blue Peter presenter Tina Heath and her husband Dave who at the time they met was playing keyboards in Australia for Cliff Richard. This fitted perfectly with Mike McDade's image to be a "Mr Big". However, it was through this friendship that Mike and his wife Pat came to faith. It took a bit of a journey, and Mike admits his dodgy lifestyle was difficult to break. In time, people in the church started to recognise a gift Mike had, and suggested he go into ministry! Mike didn't see how that could be the case, but many people saw something in him, despite the obvious difficulties that Mike had with reading and writing having not completed education at school. But he got through Bible College in Bradford and was ordained minister at Warrington. He was the sole minister in the city centre at the time of IRA bomb in Warrington and Mike was called to minister in the local hospital that day. On the Monday he was walking amidst the devastation and was asked his opinion on forgiveness for the bombers. It was a very honest answer that resonated with myself, but needless to say a journalist mis-quoted him! Each of his charges brought different challenges, but in each challenge it is evident God is central to Mike's life, even when he tried to go on his own strength during his ill health! A story that resonated with myself in my own journey of faith, I would strongly recommend this book to anyone who enjoys a great biography! But be warned, don't start reading it unless you have a full night laid aside for it as it is very difficult to put down!

Girls' Brigade – Explorer Section

We hope you all enjoyed the Festive break. Prior to the break the girls enjoyed performing at our "Talent Show". Our audience seemed to enjoy the evening ending with everyone singing Christmas Carols.

On Sunday 8th December a few girls and Officers attended the Celebration Service at Glasgow Cathedral. We were sitting close to where the Christmas banner made by us was hanging. The following week the Brigader Section hosted a Princess themed Christmas party for the Junior & Explorer Sections. The girls all enjoyed this and looked beautiful in their "princess" outfits, wearing their tiaras. Santa visited us at the party to give all the girls a gift. Since returning in January we have again been "visiting" more Commonwealth countries. The girls have been to Malawi and India. We had an Indian night discovering some facts about India, trying some Bollywood dance moves and food tasting. Some Explorers were not too keen to "Explore"! Most did try various pakoras, samosas, nan bread, spiced onions, selection of sauces/chutney and poppadums. At least the officers enjoyed them!☺

We are now busy preparing for our Special 60th Anniversary Celebration Service on Sunday 16th February, finishing off our badge work and starting to think about our display items. We will keep you updated next month.

Carol Scott, Explorer Officer

Jim Stormont wishes to thank all church member friends who sent cards expressing their condolences on the death of Jim's wife Helen on the 30th of November 2013. These were most comforting and greatly appreciated. A special 'thank you' to our minister Rev Ian Taylor for both services and his fine tribute to Helen's life.

Christmas has now come and gone and Final Preaching Assessment draws ever nearer. My time at St David's thus far has been a fascinating journey. It began with Harvest and having become part of the Art in Worship group I had great fun not only making the harvest sheaf loaf I've done for years but I also helped to build the tractor shown here which was made out of tins and cereal packets.

I'm also part of the preaching team and that is giving me experience in leading worship at Campsie View Care Home as well as being involved in the Monthly Seated Afternoon Services. (This used to be called Monthly Afternoon Seated Service until somebody announced they were going to MASS at St David's!) This is a great service for the housebound who are brought along to the church hall for a short service and then afternoon tea (sandwiches and home baking) is served. There's a wonderful sense of fellowship on these occasions.

In November I spoke to new Readers in Training at their Safeguarding Conference and enjoyed going through to the Houston Hose Hotel in Broxburn when I was able to share my experiences on the journey but also enjoy an evening of fellowship with my fellow trainees.

Back to St David's and the Christmas Tree Festival in December. I'd no idea what this involved. Well folks there were twenty four real Christmas trees (each about four foot tall) with each tree representing the different church organisations, courts, committees and groups associated with the church. Each group had to decorate their tree on the theme of "Christmas is..." I was involved with the preaching team tree who went for "Christmas is coming". The decorations on the tree were twenty four laminated angels and each angel carried the texts which point to the Messiah. Twenty Five at the top of the tree was the nativity and the passage from John Chapter 1 and the very top of the tree was an empty wooden cross. It looked quite spectacular and it was surrounded by all these other trees. The Congregational Board tree was "Christmas is Money" and notes were pinned to the branches (not real ones!).

In the lead up to Christmas I did a children's address on bells and the children's hymn that morning was a wonderful carol I first heard at the

. . . and the completed model – complete with scarecrow driver!

Christmas Tree Festival Youth service which is sung to the tune of Jingle Bells. The next big step was taking the sermon at the Watchnight service on Christmas Eve – would I manage to get the timing right to finish just before the midnight hour and be singing the third verse of Silent Night - “strikes for us now the hour of grace” – well we were singing the first verse of the carol so not bad. Christmas Day all I had to do was pronounce the blessing and shake hands at the door after the children’s nativity – but not easy for by this time James was in Glasgow Royal Infirmary. Nothing daunted I took the whole service on the last Sunday of the year and introduced St David’s to Pass the Parcel prayer. One of their young people played piano for me and chose a classical piece in four segments. It was beautifully reflective and created just the right tone for the Prayer of Approach.

In my time at St David’s I’ve become part of the church family and like any family there have been times when we’ve laughed together but there have also been times when we’ve cried together supporting each other through the rough and the smooth.

As I said at the beginning Final Preaching Assessment is drawing close. Then it’s up to Ministries Council to get everything to Presbytery who will then arrange a service of setting apart and decide how they will use me in the future. Hopefully my next piece will have details of the celebration of a service of setting apart. But in the meantime as we go to press the academic work has now been successfully completed. Let me leave you with the words of a favourite hymn from Carnwadric days:

*I know who holds the future
And He'll guide me with his hand
With God things don't just happen,
Everything by him is planned.
So as I face tomorrow,
With its problems large and small,
I'll trust the God of miracles,
Give to Him my all.*

Front Cover – This month's front cover features the window above the entrance door to the new extension built at Robroyston Church. It really is truly heartening to have such a close example to us of the church expanding. And what better words of faith to greet the New Year with as "Faith, Hope, Peace, Joy and Love".

What follows is a brief extract from the church's website relating to their "Building for the Future" project.

"Robroyston Church is currently the only church and available community facility in Robroyston. Over a number of years we have worked hard to provide our community with all that one would expect of a local church. Our volunteers work hard to channel the energies of a large number of local children and young people, to help them to develop self-esteem, caring attitudes and a sense of community. In addition to our work with young people the church offers activities for both men and women of all ages in our community. Due to the success of our outreach and community initiatives we found ourselves in the position where our accommodation was insufficient. Planning permission was granted for a substantial extension in 2011. Building work progressed rapidly and the extension was dedicated and opened for use in September 2012.

Although the new development is largely funded by the Church of Scotland and the local congregation, we are seeking further grants and donations to help defray the shortfall from anyone with an interest in the continuing development of the Robroyston Community."
